

Art Nouveau is the joining of organic and geometric forms. This mahogany cabinet is a magnificent example of these two forms in balance. The straight tapered body and brass mullions over the glass of the door create the perfect amount of geometry. The body is enhanced with the organic curves of the legs and supports for the upper shelf. In true Nouveau fashion the organic styling is embellished with a natural theme: ivy vines with leaves, flowers and a butterfly. This elegant cabinet would grace any bedroom, living room or hallway and create a perfect place to display a favored collection of small items.
